FOR CITY COUNCIL

Dear Neighbor.

Our city is in a financial crisis unlike any we've ever experienced. The solution, according to many city hall politicians, union bosses and city council candidates, is to raise your taxes to pay for it!

The taxpayers of San Diego did not create this mess; indeed, they are the victims of shady deals and greed. As such, it is flat-out wrong to stick them with the bill. That's why I cannot support any plan to hike sales taxes by $1.1 billion over the next ten years.

That is also why I have signed the Taxpayer Protection Pledge, vowing to vote against all attempts to raise your taxes. I challenge each of my opponents in the 8th district to either join me in signing the pledge, or to be upfront with the voters by telling them which taxes they intend on raising if they are elected.

As we move forward, it is imperative that we make public safety our #1 budget priority, followed closely by essential city services that impact our neighborhoods, such as libraries, parks and recreation, street repairs and the 6-to-6 before and after school program.

And we must insist that the 8th district finally gets its fair share.

Douglas Holbrook served on the San Diego Crime Commission and the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Task Force. A former faculty member of San Diego State University and the University of San Diego, Douglas is currently an attorney in private practice. He was the on-air host of "Perspectives," a nationally syndicated radio program, and "Legally Speaking," a legal advice talk show.

If you want true reform, vote for Douglas Holbrook.
Together, we can take back San Diego.
